My deep condolences to the Claypool family. I remember Ron from my childhood days. I lived next to his parents Mildred & Babe. Mildred always spoke fondly of Ron and I remember riding my bike up to say "hello" to him whenever he stopped to see them. He was a very kind man.

I feel privileged to have known this man. My heart goes out to the family and my children through this difficult time. I will always remember his smile, the way he picked on his wife, the way he would imitate the dance Tom Hanks did in Forest Gump and tell my children what a good job they did when they were little. Aside all that, he was a very loving husband, father and grandfather. I will miss him. He's with Jesus now. God bless him and his family
