Jana and I always felt like we were sisters. We didn't get together as often as we would have liked, but were there for each other. I've known Jana for 53 years and even though there were tough times between us, the good times were there to us to oversee the bad times. I will miss my friend every time I see a cat, think of something crazy we did when we were young and stupid, but most of all I will miss her love and friendship. God's speed to her in the next journey. Love you always.
