I only knew Ted for a too brief time in my life but we shared some great experiences jamming together and I remember his " suitcase " synthesizer very well. A quiet guy that made some really cool music and I do cherish that time we had together. Rest In Peace my Friend we'll meet again.

You were a "cool" rocker. I'll never forget your synth in a suitcase. You, John Scully and I played the most awesome jam of my life one night, just as good as King Crimson. You are missed.

My deepest condolences to Jessica ,John & Beth, Steve & Denise, and all of Ted's family. I am a former classmate and basement bandmate of "Reddog". He taught me to play the drums even though he was an excellent guitarist. I often think of him and miss him. I will see you again, my friend, on the other side. And maybe you ,me and Dale Polinski can get our band "Reddog at Dawn" back together and play for the Man Upstairs. R.I.P.

To Ted's family and friends. I am very sorry for Ted and for our great loss. I live in New York City and met Ted by chance in 2009. He was very kind and supportive to me about a movie I was making at the time. I wish I had had more time to spend with him and know him better. There was a lot to know. I wanted to be at Ted's memorial today but it wasn't possible. I was in NY today thinking of Ted and his family and friends. I think Ted's spirit and energy and creativity will be with us always. I send my love to Ted and all who love him. Thank you Ted!
